

Cristina Stanisteanu

Technical Expert in Standardization,
Romanian Standards Association – ASRO

Coordinates the national standardization activity in national technical committees for energy efficiency and building services.

Educated at the Technical University for Civil Engineering – Faculty of Building Services Engineering, currently a PhD candidate

Background in district heating as a designer engineer, technical consultant and head of design team

Technical expert in various research projects with EU funding in CCS (carbon capture and storage).