Heating, Cooling & Ventilation: Sustainable technologies for a better life

Olivier Janin

Secretary General, AREA

Born in 1976, Olivier Janin studied law in France (Lyon) and obtained a LLM (Masters in Law) in European Business Law.

After starting his professional career at the French Embassy in Belgium, Olivier got into European affairs by joining CLECAT, the European Association for Forwarding and Logistics. In 2008, he moved to Orgalime, the European Engineering Industries Association, where he now heads the Orgalime Partnership Department, which provides advocacy and management services to European engineering sector associations.

In this role, Olivier notably manages two European associations: FEM, the European Materials Handling Association and AREA, the European Refrigeration and Air Conditioning contractors association, of which he has been the Secretary General since 2008.
